

New vs. Old: Superbowl LV

By: Jessica Niehoff

On Sunday February, 7th the Tampa Bay Buccaneers will take on the Kansas

City Chiefs for the championship title of Superbowl LV. The shining stars of the game that America cannot wait to watch face off, Tom Brady of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers and Patrick Mahomes of the Kansas City Chiefs. This year Brady is up for his 10th Superbowl championship.

Winning this championship is extremely important to the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as they have only won 1 in their NFL history. The Kansas City Chiefs have won 2 Superbowl championships in NFL history and are up for a chance to get a 3rd title under their belt this year. Tampa Bay Buccaneers will play in their own stadium this year and will have the home advantage. If the Tampa Bay Buccaneers were to win the Superbowl this year they will make a record in the NFL team, as no NFL team has ever one the Superbowl in their own stadium.

Many are considering this Superbowl game the battle of the old vs. the new. Old being Tom Brady and new being the rising star quarterback Patrick Mahomes who won his first Superbowl last year. The battle between the two quarterbacks will be a very interesting game to watch this Sunday. Will Tom Brady known as the G.O.A.T. (Greatest of All Time) win or will the championship title go to the young kid being compared to Brady, Patrick Mahomes?

Kickoff will start at 6:30pm, you can watch the game on CBS. Even though you may want to watch the game with all of your friends and family please do keep in mind to follow COVID-19 protocols. Try to avoid large parties or gatherings. If you do decide to go out to watch the big game make sure to social distance and wear your mask so you can stay safe!
