

Christmas Events in Cincinnati

By Riley Loftus

If you're looking for something fun to do this Christmas season in Cincinnati, there are a variety of options ranging in price, date, and location that are still available.

“The Trans-Siberian Orchestra: the Ghosts of Christmas Eve”, December 29th at 3 PM, the Trans-Siberian Orchestra is performing at Heritage Bank Center. Standard Admission tickets start at $49.75 and can be found on ticketmaster.

“Every Christmas Story Ever Told” performed by the Cincinnati Shakespeare Company at The Otto M. Budig Theater, 1195 Elm St, Cincinnati, OH 45202. The performances are at 2:00 PM and 7:30 PM on a variety of dates until December 30th. For more information about dates and purchasing tickets you can go to <https://cincyshakes.com/event/every-christmas-2023/>.

“Coney Island’s Night of Lights” is available nightly from dusk until 10pm through December 31st. It is a drive-through light show located at 201 Kellogg Avenue, Cincinnati, OH 452306201. Tickets can be purchased at <https://coneyislandpark.com/event/holiday-light-show/>, tickets for a carload of up to 8 people can be purchased for $30.

“PNC Festival of Lights” at the Cincinnati Zoo is available until January 7th. Activities begin at 4 PM, but the Zoo opens at 10 AM. The Festival of Lights admission is included with admission to the Zoo. More information at <https://cincinnati-zoo.org/events/festival-of-lights/>

The Ice Rink at fountain square offers open skate and bumper cars for $10. The rink is open until February 19th. For more information go to <https://myfountainsquare.com/ice-rink/>.