

Class Legacies

By: Gabbi Byrd

If you've paid attention at least once in Tartan Time, you may have heard the term "Class Legacy". If you haven't been paying attention, let me catch you up. A class legacy is an activity or act of service your graduating class does throughout high school in hopes to leave a positive "mark" on Oak Hills. All graduating classes create one their freshmen year and continue it until the last year at Oak Hills. If you are unsure of what your class plans to leave behind, below are the Junior and Senior legacies and what your current class presidents have to say.

Class Legacies:

Class of 2021

"Snack time" (as well as other activities with the patients) at the Ronald McDonald House where students make snacks for patients and their families who were transferred there for medical purposes.

Class of 2020

The 2020 class does not have a class legacy yet, however they are in the midst of creating their mark. Senior Class President, Olivia Lang says, "We are not entirely sure yet, we have tons of different options across the board, we want to make sure we pick a legacy project that captures the class of 2020 as a whole. We are hoping to make the biggest impact possible." If you have any suggestions for a possible legacy that will leave a positive mark on Oak Hills, please contact the Senior Student Council or the Class Presidents, Olivia Lang and Tanner Murphy.

Why is it important? What impact does it have?

Junior Class President, Zack Kroger:

"Our class legacy is important because it goes primarily towards building something bigger than any one of us. Our work... helps build a home away from home for all of the patients [and] provides a huge amount of perspective on life and I can honestly say that volunteering there with my peers has been the most fulfilling aspect of my time at Oak Hills High School."

Senior Class President, Olivia Lang:

"Class legacies are meant to show both the school and the community how much we have enjoyed and cherished our time at the high school. Paying respect to the people around us is what a Class Legacy is to me."

Now that you are caught up and understand your graduating class's, "Class Legacy" you can join your classmates in making a mark here at Oak Hills. By participating, not only could you be apart of something memorable, but you could make new friends, obtain volunteer hours, and help others in your community.

How To Get Involved:

If you would like to learn more about your "Class Legacy" or would like to participate with your peers here is what to do:

1. Get in Contact!

Tartan Time Advisor

- Junior→ Brady Faust (faust\_b@ohlsd.org)
- Senior→ Amanda Biser (Biser\_A@ohlsd.org)

2. Try to email your Class President or Head of Philanthropy!

- Junior→ Zack Kroger (president) and Abby Bush (Head of Philanthropy)
- Senior→ Olivia Lang and Tanner Murphy

3. Keep an eye out for emails and posts on your Tartan Time Classroom.